Methamphetamine destroys the mind and body.

Jail photos show only a hint of the drug's devastation.

Meth eats away the brain tissue, accelerates blood pressure, creates psychosis and causes the body to overheat. Teeth fall out.

The body stops craving food and only wants the drug.

One addict said it's the closest thing to becoming a living zombie.

"I can't stand to look at myself in the mirror," she says.

If you or someone you know needs help, please talk to your counselor, a parent, a teacher or call your local law enforcement agency.
