■ Dead Horse Ranch State Park

For lasting memories, visit the Verde Valley – recently named one of the Top 10 U.S. travel destinations by Lonely Planet. Located in the 'heart' of Arizona, the Verde Valley is ideally situated above the heat of the desert and below the cold of Arizona's high country. Surrounded by the red rocks of Sedona to the northeast and Mingus Mountain to the southwest, its low elevation of 3,300' and moderate climate are enjoyed year-round.

Ancient civilizations, with their unique history and cultures are also here to explore. State parks, historic sites and enticing attractions offer activities for all ages. The Verde River provides opportunities for float trips, along with wonderful habitat for one of the Southwest's largest concentrations of resident and migratory birdlife. There is an assortment of hotels, bed & breakfasts, RV Parks, campgrounds and restaurants to choose from. Plan to stay a few days; you will need them to see all there is throughout the Verde Valley.

Temperatures & Precipitation

The Verde Valley's climate is ideal for year-round visitation. Due to its low elevation of 3,300', visitors tend to enjoy moderate climate year-round.

Cottonwood

Clarkdale

The small towns of the Verde Valley showcase the best of Arizona's quaint communities and each offers visitors a unique experience.

In the shadows of Mingus Mountain and in the heart of the Verde Valley, Cottonwood offers a distinctive historic district lined with shops and restaurants on its Main Street.

History is alive in nearby Clarkdale, whose homes and buildings still reflect its early copper smelting heritage. Four specialized museums focus on Native American cultures, international copper art, and local railroad and town history.

Cornville/Page Springs offers wineries, tasting rooms and a relaxed take on some of Arizona's most pristine high-desert scenery.

Camp Verde, located in the geographic center of Arizona, is rich in history and offers a variety of recreation and outdoor activities to experience and enjoy.

A Verde Valley excursion wouldn't be complete without a journey up the hill to

Cornville/Page Springs

Jerome, the “City in the Sky.” Once a thriving mining camp of 15,000, Jerome acquired “ghost town” status by the 1960s. Today, entrepreneurs have restored many of the quaint buildings that cling to the mountainside and the town now dishes out artsy boutiques and panoramic views in equal measure.

Speaking of views, Sedona's stark, giant, red rock formations are so compelling, they cause grown men to take up painting or poetry. Toss in dozens of superb shops, galleries, restaurants and recreational opportunities, and Sedona has found a magical elixir.

Jerome

Camp Verde

Sedona

The Verde River, one of Arizona's last free-flowing rivers, sustains a large regional wildlife population as it flows through 36 miles of lush riparian habitat in the Verde Valley. This stretch of river is known as the Verde River Greenway. The 3,300 foot elevation means mild temperatures for hiking along the Verde, canoeing, bird watching, picnicking, fishing, or just wading in the cool water.

Life along the river changes with each season, giving visitors a glimpse of great blue heron, black-hawks, ducks, coyotes, raccoons, mule deer, beavers, frogs, turtles, snakes and toads. The Verde River and surrounding riparian corridor support nearly twenty threatened or endangered species including river otter, southwestern bald eagles, southwestern willow flycatchers, and lowland leopard frogs.

The most significant natural resource in the Greenway, besides the year-round flowing river, is the dense forest of riparian trees and shrubs along its riverbank. This Fremont Cottonwood & Gooding Willow Riparian Gallery Forest is one of five remaining stands in Arizona and one of 20 such stands in the world.

Birding and Wildlife

watching in the Verde River Valley is educational and fun. A diversity of habitat attracts nesting birds and many migratory species that find this a great place to rest on their seasonal journeys. Spring is the best time to bird, but one can find interesting sightings anytime of the year. The best sites are around water. Our canyons, grass lands and elevation changes provide dynamic variations in what can be seen. Find a path meandering along the river bank or up a canyon and you'll spot birds. verdebirdingtrail.com

■ Bird Watching

■ Great Blue Heron

■ Mallard-Duck

■ Bald Eagle

Several Audubon Important Birding Areas (IBA) are located in the Valley including the Lower Oak Creek and the Tuzigoot. Places to visit for great birding include:

- Dead Horse Ranch State Park
- Tavasci Marsh - accessed from Tuzigoot National Monument or Dead Horse Ranch State Park
- Bubbling Ponds at Page Springs - has a maintained path
- Red Rock State Park - offers guided bird walks. All of these sites are included in an IBA.

The annual Verde Valley Birding and Nature Festival, held the last full weekend in April, is a great way to experience birding with those who share this growing hobby. birdyverde.org

■ Honanki Ruins

■ Palatki Ruins

Ancient Ruins can be found throughout Arizona, but some of the best preserved cliff dwellings are in the Verde Valley.

Petroglyphs

At the V-Bar-V Ranch Prehistoric Rock Art Site, 1,032 individual petroglyphs have been identified on 13 panels. They are outstanding examples of the Beaver Creek style found throughout the eastern half of Verde Valley. 928.284.5323.

Palatki Ruins

Palatki (Hopi for “red house”) is a cliff dwelling sheltered in a Supai sandstone overhang, constructed by the Southern Sinagua people who inhabited the area from approximately 650 to 1300. A most outstanding pictograph site, walls display art from archaic cultures extending back over 6,000 years to the work of the Sinagua, the Yavapai and Apache Tribes of historic times. Coconino National Forest near Sedona. For reservations call 928.282.3854.

Honanki Ruins

Honanki held one of the largest population centers in the Verde Valley, primarily occupied 1130 through 1280. Consisted of about 60 rooms and a number of pictographs. The 700-year-old well-preserved ruins and the rock art on the walls are fascinating. Coconino National Forest near Sedona. Fee area. 928.282.4119

Montezuma Castle National Monument and Montezuma Well

This ancient cliff dwelling dates back to 1150. The Castle stands in a cliff recess 100 feet above the valley. Montezuma Well is a natural limestone sinkhole. The Castle stands as one of the most well-preserved cliff dwellings in North America. 928.567.3322. $5 for adults, children are free. Summer hours May-Sept. 8am-7pm; Winter hours Sept.-May: 8am-5pm. Located at 2800 Montezuma Castle Road off Interstate 17 at exit 289, Camp Verde.

Tuzigoot National Monument

Approximately 800 years ago, this Sinagua pueblo was home to the Native American population once inhabiting this area. The site is comprised of 42 acres including hiking trails (one wheelchair accessible) and a complete museum. Visitors can actually walk through the various rooms of the pueblo to view this ancient civilization. Images, etched in stone, help tell the tale of daily life. Open daily at 9am. Fee area. Allow two hours. 928.634.5564.

Verde Valley Archaeology Center

The Verde Valley Archaeology Center displays archaeological artifacts found throughout the Verde Valley region. Open daily 10 a.m.-4 p.m. except Tues. and major holidays and Sundays from Noon to 4pm. 385 S. Main St., Camp Verde, 928.567.0066, verdevalleyarchaeology.org.

Dead Horse Ranch State Park

Offering excellent camping and RV facilities, the park attracts the recreational user. Twenty acres of lagoons are stocked with rainbow trout from November through March or you can get in your canoe and journey downstream on the Verde River. With a phenomenal trail system, the park offers many opportunities for wildlife viewing, bird watching, fishing, hiking, biking and horseback riding. Trail rides by Trail Horse Adventures are available in the park, 866.958.7245. Over 100 species of birds have been identified in the immediate confines of the park, which is home to the Verde Valley Birding and Nature Festival in April, birdyverde.org. Fee area. Allow half day. 928.634.5283.

Jerome State Historic Park

The Douglas Mansion at Jerome State Historic Park is a museum devoted to the mining history of Jerome and the Douglas family. It features photographs, artifacts, minerals, a period room and a “3-D” model of the town including the underground mines. Open 8:30am-5pm daily, 928.634.5381.

Fort Verde State Historic Park

General Crook's U.S. Army scouts and soldiers were primarily based at Fort Verde. They were charged with preventing Apache and Yavapai Indian uprisings in the late 1800s. Its officers' quarters are open to visitors and a museum is located in the old headquarters building. Fee area. 928.567.3275.

Red Rock State Park -

Center for Environmental Education

Hiking trails and beautiful vistas attract visitors to this unique park nestled along the riparian cottonwood/sycamore corridor of Oak Creek. The visitor center offers displays and theater presentations on the area, and the gift shop features books on nature-related topics. Guided nature walks are available daily by rangers and volunteer naturalists. In addition, special programs occur throughout the year. Fee area. 928.282.6907.

Slide Rock State Park

Slide Rock State Park offers an easy walk past old cabins and the flourishing famed Oak Creek apple orchard. Continue on to the stairs and trail that leads to Oak Creek, where water rushes through natural red rock sluices. In the summertime, kids and adults love to ride the water down these sluices, sunning themselves afterward on the rocks. 928.282.3034.

Oak Creek Canyon

The “switchbacks” of Oak Creek Canyon may seem a bit unnerving, but are well worth the drive to the top. The Scenic Overlook offers a fantastic view of the Canyon and beyond. There may be Native American hand-made jewelry and craft items to pick up as an authentic souvenir. Oak Creek Visitors' Center, 928.282.4119.

Red Rock Crossing, Cathedral Rock and Crescent Moon Recreation Area

At Crescent Moon Recreation Area, visitors walk along Oak Creek and see impressive views with unbelievable photo opportunities of Cathedral Rock. Fee area. Sedona Ranger Station, 928.282.4119. Crescent Moon/Red Rock Crossing, 928.204.1389.

■ Tuzigoot National Monument

Scenic Beauty

Take a leisurely drive on Historic Highway 89A from the top of Mingus Mountain down through the historic copper town of Jerome on the zigzag descent down Cleopatra Hill. Catch your breath in the old company mining town of Clarkdale. Plan to spend plenty of time as you continue on to Old Town Cottonwood taking in the historic buildings and plenty of culinary delights. Continue on Hwy. 89A taking a detour on Historic Page Springs Road to visit the three beautiful vineyards and wineries on the Verde Valley Wine Trail. Back on Hwy. 89A view the breath-taking red rocks as you approach Sedona. Complete the trip with a drive through the switchbacks of Oak Creek Canyon to the beautiful Scenic Overlook.

Native American

In the morning plan to explore the ancient Indian dwellings at the Palatki and Honanki Ruins outside of Sedona. Be sure to make reservations in advance. Continue on to Camp Verde for a visit to the Verde Valley Archaeology Center to see ancient artifacts from across the Verde Valley. Next, try your luck at Cliff Castle Casino on the Yavapai-Apache Nation. Enjoy lunch at one of their popular restaurants before heading over to Montezuma Castle National Monument. View this five-story, 20-room “castle,” which stands in a cliff recess 100 feet above the valley floor. Nearby is Montezuma Well where you can climb down the sinkhole which has a year-round water source and see the caves once occupied by Native Americans. The outlet of the spring is seen as you continue along the trail.

In Clarkdale visit Tuzigoot National Monument, an entire village centered on a pueblo two stories high and built on a hill 120 feet above the Verde River.

History & Culture

Start your morning with breakfast and a stroll through Cottonwood’s Historic “Old Town” District, listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Then follow Historic Highway 89A to Clarkdale’s Copper Art Museum, located at the center of the Clarkdale Historic District. Stroll through the commercial district, town park and enchanting neighborhoods from the early 1900s and view the work of local artists. Then continue on to Jerome, where a stop at the Jerome State Historic Park brings to life the ghost of its mining past. In the afternoon take a ride aboard the Verde Canyon Railroad for a four-hour trip through the Verde Canyon. After the train ride, enjoy a true western experience with a chuckwagon supper

■ Out of Africa Wildlife Park

and western stage show at The Blazin’ M Ranch Western Experience. Or attend a concert, theater, comedy or dance event at Old Town Center for the Arts.

Recreation

Set an early tee time for a challenging round of golf at Verde Santa Fe Golf Club or Coyote Trails Golf Course. Or maybe Disc Golf is more your style at Riverfront Park in Cottonwood. Fishing, hiking, horseback riding and bird watching provide an excellent afternoon of relaxation at Dead Horse Ranch State Park. Enjoy a Jeep tour in Sedona and finish the day shopping in any one of the many Verde Valley communities that offer a vast array of opportunities including antique stores, specialty shops and fine art galleries.

Spend a day on an African Safari in the heart of Arizona at Out of Africa Wildlife Park. Ride or walk through a preserve viewing a diverse variety of animals including giraffe, wildebeest, lions and tigers.

Wildlife & Birding

The Verde Valley is known for its access to the natural resources that attract wildlife. Visit Dead Horse Ranch State Park and take a trail to Tavasci Marsh with its own observation deck. The marsh and the Verde River Greenway have been designated as Important Bird Areas. From there, travel down Historic Page Springs Road to Page Spring’s Bubbling Ponds, then on to Page Springs Fish Hatchery.

The Desert Rose

offers cozy, casual luxury at an affordable small town price which you will soon consider a home away from home. Awake to the aroma of fresh ground French roast, explore rustic charm, ride a tandem bike, feed llamas or just enjoy a sunset by our majestic water fountain. You will surely love the Desert Rose!

Within a 15 minute radius you will find; Cottonwood, Sedona, Jerome, Clarkdale and Camp Verde, Montezuma's Castle and other Indian Ruins, 4 wineries and 10 or more tasting rooms, an ideal location!

The manor contains different size rooms (ALL with a KING bed) to suit every traveler's needs and budget, as well as multiple living rooms which provide guests with privacy if that is wanted.

Our expansive, lush, green 1.5-acre gated grounds have lovely gardens, stone paths, a tranquil fountain and so much more.

Whether you are here to sip on wine, ride a hot air balloon, do a jeep or ATV tour, visit Out of Africa, Blazin' M Ranch or ride the Verde Canyon Railroad, the Desert Rose is the perfect place to relax and unwind, or start your Arizona adventure.

Old Town Cottonwood

The town of Cottonwood began as a campground and stop-over for travelers to Oak Creek, Beaver Creek and Camp Verde. It was one of three main crossings over the Verde River. Cottonwood became a supplier of fresh produce to the copper miners in Jerome in the early years of the 20th century. Today, it is the commercial hub of the Verde Valley and is home to a number of antique shops, fine restaurants, art galleries, wineries, tasting rooms and festivals throughout the year. Jerome

Jerome

Jerome

The city in the sky was at one time the most talked about mining camp in America and is listed on the National Historic Register. Its population went from 15,000 in its heyday, to a “ghost town” of under 50 people, to its role today as a center for the arts with unique shops, galleries, wineries, tasting rooms, dining and lodging. This scenic view of the entire Verde Valley offers wonderful photographic opportunities. Jerome Chamber of Commerce, 928.624.2900, azjerome.com.

Gold King Mine

The Gold King Mine displays early machinery of the mining era in Jerome and will round out this step back in time. Open daily 9am-5pm, 928.634.0053, goldkingmineghosttown.net

■ The Verde Canyon Railroad

Founded in 1912, Clarkdale is unique in American history as Arizona's first model company town. A product of the City Beautiful movement, Clarkdale housed smelter workers of the United Verde Copper Company, owned by railroad baron and copper tycoon Senator William A. Clark. Today, Clarkdale Historic District, comprising 386 structures, is an architect's and history buff's dream. An upscale wine bar, lounges, restaurants, museums and galleries, shops, river tours and an historic gas station keep the historic business district lively. The historic building and home tour is one of the many annual events held in Clarkdale. Town of Clarkdale, 928.639.2400, Clarkdale.AZ.gov

Copper Art Museum

Located at the center of the Clarkdale Historic District, the Copper Art Museum features amazing copper art from around the world, with special emphasis on European and American works of art from the 16th - 20th centuries. Open daily 10am-5pm, at 849 Main St., 928.649.7230

Clarkdale Historical Society and Museum

Preserving the spirit of Clarkdale by illuminating the past. Clarkdale was built in 1912 for the workers of United Verde Copper Company, one of Arizona's greatest examples of an empire. Take a stroll on historic Main Street....wander through the park....enjoy 386 buildings all listed on the National Register of Historic Places. 900 First North St., 928.649.1198, clarkdaleheritage@gmail.com

The Verde Canyon Railroad

The Verde Canyon Railroad is considered Arizona's longest running nature show. The remote wilderness of the Verde Canyon is renowned for its towering, red rock pinnacles, clean, green waters, Indian ruins, tunnels, trestles and clear, azure skies. This picturesque setting is further enhanced by the variety of indigenous flora and fauna, the many migrating waterfowl and bald eagles that winter in this riparian respite each year. Though it is possible to hike the canyon, riding the rails of the Verde Canyon Railroad is the most comfortable and entertaining way to experience it. Most trains depart daily at 1pm. Reservations required. Allow four hours. 928.639.0010, 877.800.7325, verdecanyonrr.com.

Verde Santa Fe
Golf Club

Page Spring Cellars

For a unique small town experience and the opportunity to enjoy Oak Creek without crowds, a trip to Cornville has it all. Enjoy golf, vineyards and wine tasting, birding and fine dining. 928.634.8851.

Verde Santa Fe Golf Club

Golf enthusiasts of all levels can enjoy this par 71 layout at just over 3,300' elevation. Verde Santa Fe offers a memorable round of golf overlooking the beautiful landscape of the Verde Valley framed by Mingus Mountain. This is an 18-hole course playable at all levels. Tee time reservations recommended. 928.634.5454, verdesantafe.com.

Page Springs Road Wineries

Visit Cornville while in the Verde Valley and experience three of the regions favorite wineries – Page Springs Cellars, Oak Creek Vineyards and Javelina Leap. These pioneering wineries all located along Page Springs Road are producing a wide variety of wines. Many different styles, each distinct to their label, are being praised by wine critics and have won national awards for their quality.

Page Springs Fish Hatchery

Nestled among the cool pines of the Coconino National Forest, the Page Springs Fish Hatchery offers a cool retreat from the desert during hot summer months. Families enjoy hiking the nature trail bordering Oak Creek and kids like visiting the show ponds to see the hatchery's finest and largest trout. Designated by the National Audubon Society as an Important Bird Area (IBA), the hatchery is considered the premier birding area for the Verde Valley where over 200 bird species have been identified. 928.634.4805
