COTTONWOOD FIREFIGHTERS PARTICIPATE IN VEHICLE EXTRICATION TRAINING

On Thursday, July 10, 2014, Cottonwood firefighters were able to participate in “hands-on” vehicle extrication training thanks to a donation of a vehicle by Red Rock Collision. The training was coordinated by Cottonwood firefighter Tim Bishop and volunteer firefighter Patrick Moran. Firefighters were able to utilize various hand and power tools including the “Jaws of Life” in realistic training to hone their extrication skills in order to force open car doors, lift dashboards, open hoods and perform other required functions necessary to assist victims when a vehicle is involved in a collision trapping the occupants.
