Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission Volunteer Award Interview

The Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission received a volunteer award from The Governor's Commission on Service and Volunteerism for 2013. This past Friday, two Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission members, Ashleigh Makuch and Shaylor Dowling, were interviewed for a video that will be played at the 12th Annual Governor's Volunteer Service Award Luncheon at the Capitol Building in Phoenix. Volunteering alongside Mayor Diane Joens and the City Council by serving the youth in the Verde Valley, the award is well deserved. Ashleigh and Shaylor were appointed to represent the Commission and eloquently explained the purpose of their personal drive to volunteer and how they are able to carry out the purpose of CYAC through volunteer work.

The Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission works under the City Council as a voice for the Youth in the area and to provide an outlet for teens through events in youth programming. The Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission has monthly meeting open to the public.

For more information on additional youth program events or more information on the Cottonwood Youth Advisory Commission, contact Britney Lawler at (928)639-3200.
