SBA Economic Injury Disaster Fact Sheet and Loan Application Process

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering long-term, low-interest Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) for working capital to small businesses and non-profit organizations suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). There is no cost to apply for the loan and there is no obligation to take the loan if offered.

Eligible entities may qualify for loans up to $2 million. The SBA will take furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment as collateral when it is available. No real estate collateral is required. The maximum unsecured loan amount is $25,000. The interest rate for this disaster loan is 3.75% for small businesses with terms of 30 years or 2.75% for non-profit organizations with terms of 30 years. Interest starts accruing in the first year while principal loan payments are deferred for the first year of the loan, and terms are determined on a case-by-case basis. Eligibility for these working capital loans is based on the size (must be a small business) and type of business and its financial resources. Information is subject to change as the SBA provides additional information and guidance.

These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that would have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans may not be used to refinance existing loans and are not intended to replace lost sales or profits or for expansion.

Loan Qualifications

The basic eligibility requirements include:

- Business Longevity: The business must be in operation for at least one year, although all businesses are encouraged to apply regardless of longevity.
- Credit History: Applicants must have a credit history acceptable to the SBA.
- Repayment: Applicants must show the ability to repay the loan after operations return to normal. There are no pre-payment penalties.
- Collateral: Collateral is required for all Emergency Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) over $25,000. The SBA will take furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment as collateral when it is available. No real estate is required. The SBA will not decline a loan for lack of collateral, but SBA will require the borrower to pledge collateral that is available.
- Business Presence: Applicants must have a tangible and significant physical presence in the affected disaster area.
- Loan Eligibility Restrictions: Noncompliance – Applicants who have not complied with the terms of previous SBA loans may not be eligible. This includes borrowers who did not maintain required flood insurance and/or hazard insurance on previous SBA loans. Impact of disaster on
